CANADA FIRST

In the year 1883, it is calculated that through continuous unemployment, part-time unemployment, intermittent unemployment, and the outflow of wages and salaries from the country of Canada have lost $1,440,000,000 in earnings.

To say nothing of the additional hundreds of millions lost to the farmers of Canada through the legislative support of the tariff system, the millions received in Canadian money for products sold abroad, and nothing about the acres of millions of which have been taken from the hands of employed Canadians to support hundreds of thousands of unemployed on a scale of bare subsistence.

That $1,440,000,000 of lost earnings would have paid $1,440,000,000 of debts and taxes and bought $1,440,000,000 worth of goods as it passed from the hands of the unemployed to the hands of stores and found its way into the tills of mortgage and loan companies and the treasuries of the municipalities, provinces and the Dominion. If money turned over three times in the course of a year, that additional sum received as wages and salaries would have boosted trade in Canada and liquidated debts to the tune of twelve millions to the amount of $4,000,000,000, as it passed from hand to hand.

The present Government of Canada was elected three years ago on a policy of "Canada first." It is in order to inquire in what particular has that policy been applied during the year that is closing. "Canada first" means a shorter name for the people who live in Canada. That is the only important meaning the word has in fact a national bonhomie. In what respect have the interests of the people of Canada been given precedence in the shaping of public policy?

Has no major branch of policy has that been done? Those interests have been subverted to a trade theory which two disastrous years had shown to be ruinous. They have been made to take second place to the maintenance of a money theory that every first rate country on earth have an abandoned as destructive. They have been made to take second place to a theory that has landed Newfoundland in bankruptcy and imposed a tax of one million dollars a day on the tax-payers of Canada in interest charges on public bonds.

To the end that these theories—every one of them untenable in reason and discredited in practice—might be kept before the eyes of the people of Canada have been either ignored or deliberately subjected to destruction.

The $1,440,000,000 of earnings of which Canadians have been deprived in the last three years of grace have gone forever. No burst of future prosperity can ever bring back the lost earnings and buying power that have been paid off. The legacy of loss from that devastation is permanent. It stands in the records of shrunken incomes, increased debt obligations, lost property values, wrecked homes, and of those grim tragedies which the newspapers have recorded daily as emerging from the wreckage of homes and hopes.

Are the people of Canada to be forced to undergo in 1934 the loss of another $1,440,000,000 of earnings? That is the question which members of the Dominion Parliament are asked to make what their party names or preferences should be asking themselves, for it is a question that equally challenges their ability to make the interests of the people they were elected to represent. Distress knows no party lines. Deplorable has impoverished the Conservative and Liberal alike, along with those who have followed other banners in token of their discontent. The demand for relief and redress comes from all quarters.

Those who have ears to hear and eyes to see know that this is no time for party feuds, for fighting fences, trimming sails, and the other devices which may serve in normal circumstances. The public are heart-sick of phrases and palliatives, impatient to the point of exasperation. They demand rational action, action with; and they have a right to expect parliament to enforce that demand.

A rational choice between a party and a general election; that is the choice with which parliament should confront the Government the day the session opens. If it has any glimmering sense of its responsibility to the people of Canada and parliament should compel that choice if it has to start in session all summer.

The country has had all it can stand of a pretence it can stand. It is now going to get a real Canada first policy, whether from the present Government or another one.

"IN UNION IS STRENGTH"

The Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association has pledged itself to urge the immediate completion of the Jasper highway from Entwistle through the mountains to connect with the British Columbia highway running north from Kamloops to Blue River.

The association takes its stand squarely on the principle that it would be sound economy for the Dominion Government to utilize its employment expenditure to the utmost in the construction of useful public works.

There is no gaining that principle, no substitute for it, and no alternative to it, except to the desirability of applying the principle to the Jasper highway. The only way to deal with unemployment effectively is to give employment, and the completion of the Jasper highway is in the fullest sense of the term a project for the general advantage of Canada.

Aside from the building of a railway, there is no kind of undertaking in which the expenditure of federal money is more justified than in the construction of this inter-provincial highway.

This proposal of the Motor Association should have the prompt endorsement of motor associations, boards of trade, and municipal councils throughout central and northern Alberta. It is time to stop trifling with unemployment and to take a more active part in the construction of this inter-provincial highway. Organizations of all kinds in this section of the province should join in backing this definite plan to employ our surplus supply of labor in completing this great and essential national enterprise.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL RAID

Canadian exhibitors entered exhibits in 21 classes at the Chicago International exhibition. World championships in 12 of these classes came to Canada, 6 of them to Alberta. The United States kept 9.

The distinctively Canadian character of Chicago's big fair is becoming more pronounced each year. As a result, Canada has won 10 per cent more championships than the United States, and Alberta two-thirds as many as all the states in the Union, our neighbors must be wondering where fair it is.

Forty Years Ago

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

The election of Joseph Martin by a majority of between 400 and 500, on a platform of tariff reduction and Conservative stronghold of Winnipeg, with every feature in favor of the Government candidate, should echo and re-echo throughout the country. It proclaims the temper of the vote in the West, and it is given double significance coming immediately after the visit of the Dominion Ministers to the west. Finance Minister Foster has returned with the report that the west will be satisfied with a few minor reductions in the tariff. Winnipeg's thundering protest against the majority of the ministers on the question of tariff reform was seriously questioned here all along and Mr. Foster's statements on his return cast a gloom of depression.

The list of exhibitors from the Northwest who won awards at the World's Columbian exhibition at Chicago is a long one and the successful entry run all the way from flour to horses, bituminous coal and buffalo hides.

The Passing Show

By J. J. COWPER

President Roosevelt's condemnation of the lynching of the two young confessed kidnappers—murderers is only what one might expect from the chief executive of the American people.

There is no denying that principle, no substitute for it, and no alternative to it, except to the desirability of applying the principle to the Jasper highway. ## Cure of Rheumatism

Is No Riddle

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

When the toxemia responsible for rheumatism is already present, patient is in condition favorable to the development of pus pockets at the roots of the teeth, or in the tonsils or sinuses.

I always advise that proper attention be given to the mouth, and that the patient should use a procedure helpful; but merely removing pus pockets will not remove all of the rheumatism, the use of efficient colonic irrigation. Therefore, these measures are not sufficient to completely cure rheumatism. It is necessary to have experience in hundreds of cases of rheumatism that disease will only be cured when the general poisoning of the system has been over-come.

One whose body is clogged with the impurities which cause rheumatism will find that certain conditions which do not harm other people will in this case, serve as a going concern to precipitate an attack. For example, exposure to cold, sitting in a draught of chilly air, working in wet clothing, or even unaccustomed exercise will be enough to bring on an attack of rheumatism. This is partly due to the fact that the cold slows up the circulation of blood, causing a stagnation of blood in certain parts with the result that the tissues in which they are deposited.

As long as the systematic poisons which cause rheumatism are ignored, the cure of rheumatism remains a riddle. The poisons are eradicated, the cure of rheumatism is simple and sure. In the treatment of any form of rheumatism, the use of efficient colonic irrigation is the means of getting the best results possible, owing to the fact that the bloodstream during the fasting period is not so active as it is in the periods when food is being absorbed, and poisons which set up irritation in the muscles, joints or nerve trunks.

One who has rheumatism is quite rapid and usually the muscular soreness will leave in two or three days after the beginning of the fast. In extremely chronic cases of rheumatism, the fast will be shorter, but if the patient will persist in the cleansing treatment, it is often possible to bring about considerable relief in a very short time. The fast will find the joints are reduced to a truly surprising degree. Even though relief seems slow, you may rest assured that you will receive "some good from the fast."

In the treatment of muscular rheumatism, the use of heat over the affected parts is of great benefit. This should be continued for a week or more, the body twice each day in a tub of hot water to which has been added a handful of Epsom salt. This will find this will aid in bringing about a more complete cure of sciatica and lumbago, the use of the hot sitz bath is recommended.

With any type of rheumatism, intestinal cleanliness becomes very important and the patient should use the enema at least once daily during the fast. The enema should be given in severe cases, the presence of adhesions and kinks of the bowel should be suspected. If such adhesions are found to be present, the complete cure will be brought about by manipulative treatments, suitable physio-therapy treatments and exercise to return the intestines to normal.

When the patient is suffering from acute inflammation and the parts do best with rest. After the inflammation has been reduced, the patient should be given gentle exercises which will be beneficial in keeping the working power of the muscles and prevent wastage of the muscular tissues. As a further help, sweat baths, gentle massage and treatment with the deep therapy lamp may be employed. However, the important part of the treatment for rheumatism is the cleansing of the blood, which by the fast, right diet and keeping the colon clean.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: F. E. J. writes: "An eighteen years old and bothered with catarrh and a bad cold. Can you tell me what to do? What would be best for this diet?"

ANSWER: Yes, both can be cured by a fast and colonic irrigation with gentle exercises. The diet is too long to be printed in this column. Please send a large, self-addressed envelope, that I may be glad to forward the instructions to you.

SIDE GLANCES--By George Clark

So had renounced his baptismal faith to become a Roman Catholic (a hard thing for some Ontario Catholics to swallow), he won his way to the leadership of the party and a little over a year after the death of John A. was prime minister. His honesty was predominant; he would permit no crookedness in his party or in the nation's affairs as was demonstrated in the manner in which he punished political offenders even when prominent in the Conservative party. "He had a fierce intolerance of the slightest departure from absolute rectitude."

Twice a representative of Canada on international committees, he stood firm for law and politics. Elected for Antigonish to the House of Commons in 1877 he was a member of the House of Commons in 1877 when he became premier; but after two months resigned to take seat in the province's Supreme Court. In 1885, Sir Charles Tupper, after a great deal of persuasion, induced him to return to politics as Minister of Justice in the cabinet of Sir John A. Macdonald, who came to rely greatly upon his son's counsel and wisdom.

Unassuming in character, Thompson was not a success as a politician in the popular sense of the word; he was not a mixer; but his intellect was an extraordinary asset, despite the fact that he was a failure in the popular sense of the word.

DEVELOPMENT WORK RUSHED AT BEAR LAKE

All Companies Report Good Showings—Production Soon

Development work is proceeding apace at Great Bear lake, with all of the leading companies having good showings and are planning to get on to a production soon, said J. B. Paul, Great Bear lake mine, on his way back out for Christmas.

The Eldorado company is turning up its tail and will have it hanging over its head at Lakeport, while the Bonanza group of claims, this company at Dowdell point, will be developed next spring. St. Paul and the other companies have some 25 men at work.

Consolidated have wonderful showings, and have built a fine camp, but little is known of their development plans.

SHARP DOWN 25 FEET

Great Bear Lake Mines, Limited, have had a sharp drop of 25 feet. The outfit has a two-foot vein of heavy silver showing in the hanging wall in the shaft. Two men are at work on its last cross of claims.

H.C.A. is carrying on with a small unit at present, and has a tunnel in 300 feet. This company has a high grade five feet vein of silver. St. Paul said. Contact Lake also has making good.

Hargrave has a vein traced for 2500 feet and has an extensive drilling program next spring. No silver here, but all good showings ranging from values of $5 to $70 a ton. St. Paul pointed out.

Marshall Great Bear has opened up several veins and further development will depend on assays. Preliminary assays indicated gold worth $41 to the ton, when gold had value of $20 to the ton.

PLAN EXTENSIVE DRILLING

St. Paul-Subarctic plan to do a lot of drilling on their claims. They claim they have 100 barrels of gasoline all ready to run their machines with silver strikes.

White Eagle is in 45 feet on a vein which shows five inches of high grade silver and five feet of vein ore. Fourteen men are working.

St. Paul said a warm tribute to Dr. O'Brien, medical officer at Great Bear lake, for the work he has done in going to the rescue of sick and injured prospectors.

"Mr. O'Brien, who is a trained nurse, is worth his weight in gold," St. Paul added, "and his husband went to Akavik in a plane with Mr. Ingham, and other sick men. She also made two trips to help other miners who needed aid. Canadian Airways generously placed a plane at his disposal on each occasion without charge."

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday For General Currie

Under the auspices of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, and Memorial Service League, a memorial service will be held at the Memorial Hall on Sunday next, December 17, for Sir Arthur W. Currie, K.C.M.G., K.C.B., Commander of the Canadian Corps in France who died recently.

The service will commence at 2 p.m. with short but impressive religious service being arranged.

Invitations to attend are being extended to all ex-servicemen and some organizations as well as military leaders.

May, Gen. W. A. Griesbach, C.B. C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., K.C. official commander of the 4th Battalion and later commander of the 1st Brigade of the 1st Canadian Division will be the main speaker and will choose as his topic "In Memoriam."

Alderman Bellamy Dubs Let's System Plain Chain System

Taking exception to the system in vogue at the present time of Canadian cities forwarding resolutions to other cities for approval, Ald. H. V. Bellamy, at city council meeting Monday night, December 11, said "let's system."

He referred particularly to resolutions forwarded to Edmonton from Moose Jaw dealing with unemployment relief work, etc. These resolutions advocated: (1) an immediate program of public works; (2) cash payment of relief; (3) payment by the federal government; (4) 50 per cent of the total bill; and (5) a new issue of Canadian notes to facilitate the financing of the employment projects.

City council approved all four resolutions.

Ald. Bellamy objected to (1) and (4), stating that such proposals held many "disadvantages."

In reply, Ald. C. C. Gibbs said he believed addresses could find place behind the resolutions.

Prussian State Counsellor, Two Americans Among Victims—Pilot Crashes in Hill in Blind Landing.

HAMBURG, Dec. 12.—An airplane crashed in a landing near Hamburg today, killing a Prussian state counsellor and two Americans.

The plane, a biplane, crashed in a field near Hamburg, and the pilot was killed.

The Americans were identified as Emma Anstalt, a nurse, and Frank Barber, a native of England and a naturalized American.

The woman was born in Sweden and was married to a German.

Four of the victims, including the American, the Prussian state counsellor, Gustav Wagemann, and Pilot Officer Wren and another passenger died later in hospital.

Four other passengers were badly hurt.

It was revealed the pilot attempted to make a blind landing in fog, and the plane crashed into a hill.

The plane was carrying a large amount of wireless postal-flying instruments, the passengers died rapidly in the crash, and the plane was on fire.

EUROPEANS ON QUIVET FOR STABILIZATION

London-Pair Pound, Dollar Basis

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Stock exchange and financial circles were yesterday on a quiver of nerves over the prospects of the United States currency stabilization and to be expecting such action eventually.

The key to the situation, these circles said, is held by President Roosevelt.

Changes in the financial district last week, based on reports from Washington, had indicated that the government had something to say.

It has been known for some time that the Bank of England authorities would look favorably upon the stabilization of the pound and dollar.

"Mr. O'Brien, who is a trained nurse, is worth his weight in gold," St. Paul added, "and his husband went to Akavik in a plane with Mr. Ingham, and other sick men. She also made two trips to help other miners who needed aid. Canadian Airways generously placed a plane at his disposal on each occasion without charge."

Under the auspices of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, and Memorial Service League, a memorial service will be held at the Memorial Hall on Sunday next, December 17, for Sir Arthur W. ## 6-WEEKS TRIAL WILL BE GIVEN REDUCED FARES

A new fare tariff will come into existence on December 12 which will give Edmonton street railway patrons a month of reduced fares and a result of a decision made by city council, Monday night.

The alternative board concerned in a recommendation to this effect made by city commissioners. This fare will be given a trial until January 1, 1934.

Ald. H. B. Sheppard, who a short time ago proposed even greater reductions in the fare structure, found fault with the 20-cent-a-dollar scheme as suggested by St. W. J. Cunningham, head of the street railway department.

The alternative board suggested that such a system would not give a reduction to a large number who could afford to pay 20 cents, whereas they could afford to pay 20 cents.

Comptroller H. B. Sheppard believed that a fare of 20 cents would be a fair one for the street railway business.

Ald. James Bell said that if the city adopted the street fare, the street railway department would be run into a huge deficit. He moved that council consider in the recommendation by the commissioners and that the new fare being given a trial.

Support was given a suggestion by Ald. E. B. Bell. The motion was referred to the finance committee, which will report on the matter.

FAITS by BILL LEWIS

Yesterday's mail brought two letters dealing with Saturday night's game between Calgary and Edmonton. ... One put the Eskimos pretty squarely "on the spot," while the other upheld the local club in a manner that is not often seen when the home team is beaten. ... Neither was signed and, for that reason, it is not considered advisable to publish them. ... However, there is one angle that the booster brings out which may be worthy of mention. It is: "Of course, it may be very wise of the mark, but it appeared to me that a sock in the jaw from the puck shot at close range with the speed of a bullet, got him so that he was unable to get back towards the end of the first period, being able to get to the end of the second period."

Robertson came back to play a wonderful game in Calgary last night, according to Harry Scott. However, it is not my intention of continuing the discussion over on recent Saturday's game.

It appears that the Canadian junior football final will not materialize this year due to the inability of the East to raise a guarantee for Calgary to play in it. Which is a tough break for Western Canada, as Althaus has a team this year that would likely win any Eastern team they would meet and wipe out the setback received when Winnipeg lost in the senior play-off.

Varsity and Crescents make their first appearance in senior hockey competition last night. ... Both clubs are reported to be strengthened over last season just what chance they have of becoming contenders in the senior circuit this winter should be pretty well demonstrated by their work this evening. ... Varsity has a new coach this season in Alan Wilson, of Moose Jaw, who played hockey with the squad, while Walter Hunter is again at the helm of the Crescents.

The Junior leagues have back to back action again tomorrow, with Edmonton Athletic club meeting South side. ... The juniors have shown some good hockey in the two games played to date this season and should be going better all the time.

Here is the chief reason why the Chicago Blackhawks are fighting for first place in the American section of the National Hockey League. His name, of course, is Charlie Gardiner, and he is a product and proud son of Winnipeg. Charlie, hailed everywhere as the greatest goal-tender in hockey, has shown not the slightest sign this season of letting up and letting in goals. In the first eleven games this season, Charlie only allowed 13 goals, just a fraction over one per game, the lowest average of any goalie in the league.
